

Posted November 7, 2012:

On January 1, 2013, the Board will begin implementing its new continuing education rules. A draft of the new rules is available here. After November 19, 2012, the rules will also be available for review here.

Update: The new rules will not be available on the Secretary of State's website until December. Please refer to the above draft until they are published by the Secretary of State.